Recommended tags to use for Locations and Events

In order for the Flickr searching to be able to find your pictures based on the Location where they were taken, we all have to use the same tags for the same Locations. If I tag a picture with “Boundary” and you tag it with “BBRP” then no search will ever find both of our pictures ... it is as though they were taken in different places.

The source for this list is all the sites we could find where DNCB have already visited, and we picked one word tags to represent that. In some cases we used a compound word tag. If we ever want to change any of these there may be a LOT of pictures to edit to make corrections, so it's a lot easier to live with something you don't like than to recommend changes. Additions are easy enough – but we need to update the list so that EVERYONE knows and uses the new location Tag.

Where necessary, more than one location tag can be used, often accompanied by an Event tag (see the second table below).
